After such hearing is had, the Budget Committee shall submit to the Quarterly County Court, with recommendation for adoption, such budget as may be agreed upon. However, it shall not be mandatory upon the Quarterly County Court to adopt the budget recommended by the Budget Committee, but the Quarterly County Court shall by appropriate order adopt and enter on the minutes thereof a budget covering all expenditures for the County for next appropriation year, itemized and classified as required by Section 2 of this Act; provided, however, that it shall be mandatory upon the Quarterly County Court to adopt a budget for the ensuing fiscal year, and the revenues applicable to such budget so adopted shall be in conformity to the requirements of the provisions of Section 2 hereof.

SECTION 4. That the Budget Committee or Director of the Budget of Overton County, Tennessee, may require the heads or other responsible representatives of all departments, divisions, boards, commissions, agencies, or offices of said County as more specifically named in Section 1 hereof to furnish such information as may be deemed advisable and in such form as may be required in relation to their respective affairs and activities.

It shall be the duty of the Director of the Budget, however, to approve expenditures requested by any of the departmental heads so long as same conform to the requirements of this section.

SECTION 9. That any official of Overton County having the power, right, or authority to expend County funds from the Treasury of the County, or funds coming into the County treasury from the State of Tennessee in excess of the monies or funds then and there actually in the Treasury of the County to the credit of his or her department of the County government, or in excess of the budget adopted by the Quarterly County Court of Overton County covering that certain period of time as shown by the budget, such County official making any overdrafts on the County Treasury or commitments in excess of the amount appropriated for the specific purpose for which the expenditure was made by the Quarterly County Court of Overton County, shall be personally liable, together with his sureties on his official bond, to Overton County for such overdrafts or over expenditures, and the County shall have cause of action of debt to recover from such official or officials and their bondsmen the amount of the overdraft or over expenditure with interest from date.

That it shall be mandatory upon the members of the Quarterly County Court to determine whether or not warrants, purchase orders, or other commitments have been issued or made in violation of the intent of this Act, and if warrants, purchase orders, or other commitments are found to have been issued in violation of the intent of this Act, it shall be mandatory upon the Court or its qualified representative to certify the facts to the District Attorney General for presentation to the Grand Jury at the next term of the Circuit Court; and it shall be the duty of the District Attorney General to present the facts to said Grand Jury and to institute such other proceedings as may be necessary to give full effect to the provisions of this Act.

SECTION 12. That the purpose of this Act is to place and maintain the fiscal affairs of Overton County, Tennessee, on a cash basis, and the provisions of this Act shall constitute an irrepealable contract and shall become effective not later than July 8, 1941.

SECTION 13. That authority and power is hereby granted to Overton County, Tennessee, to make special tax levies for any purpose, irrespective of any laws or parts thereof heretofore passed in conflict herewith, in order to carry out the provisions of this Act, and to make any special pledges necessary in connection therewith by and through action of the Quarterly County Court of said County.

SECTION 14. That the holding of any section or part thereof, or any subsection, clause, sentence, or phrase of this Act to be void or ineffective for any cause, shall not affect any other section or part thereof of this Act. It is hereby declared, and shall be conclusively presumed, that this Act and each section, subsection, sentence or clause or phrase thereof would have been passed and enacted, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases thereof be declared unconstitutional or void or ineffective for any cause.

SECTION 15. That all laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this Act shall take effect from and after its passage, the public welfare requiring it.

Administration - Historical Notes

Budget System

The following act once created a budgeting system for Overton County, but it has been specifically repealed or superseded by current law.

1. Private Acts of 1937, Chapter 840, was the first Budget Law and System for Overton County. The 1941 act which is published herein did not specifically repeal this act but did provide for the elimination of conflicts. The 1941 law changed several administrative provisions such as the time for filing budget requests, the time of the fiscal year, reassigned and added to some specific statements or responsibility, but retained the substance of all the definitions.

County Attorney

The following acts once affected the appointment, election, or office of the county attorney in Overton County. These acts are included for historical reference only. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

1. Private Acts of 1911, Chapter 42, created the office of county attorney in Overton County, who shall be a licensed attorney and otherwise legally qualified, and who shall be appointed initially by the governor to serve until a county attorney can be elected by the people at the regular general August election. He shall transact all the legal business of the county that does not conflict with the county judge's duties, and advise county officials on legal matters. His salary shall be $300 a year, payable quarterly, out of the revenue of the county. This act was repealed by the one following.
2. Private Acts of 1915, Chapter 685, specifically repeals Private Acts of 1911, Chapter 42, above.
3. Private Acts of 1941, Chapter 68, again provided for the office of county attorney in Overton County, naming J. A. Oakley, who is duly and well qualified for the position, to hold the office until September 1, 1942, when his successor, duly elected by the qualified voters in the August election, shall take over the office. The county attorney must be a licensed attorney over 35 years of age who shall be paid $900 a year. The attorney shall transact all the legal business of the county, either in court, or otherwise, and advise county officials, including the highway commission, upon any legal matters affecting their offices. The county attorney shall also file all the bills to collect delinquent taxes at no additional compensation. All fees accruing as a result of the delinquent tax bills shall be the property of the county.
4. Private Acts of 1955, Chapter 19, amended Private Acts of 1941, Chapter 68, above, by removing the thirty-five year age limit from Section 3 for the county attorney, and validating the election of anyone who was otherwise qualified except for the age at the time of his election. This act was properly ratified by the quarterly court of Overton County.

5. Private Acts of 1969, Chapter 56, properly ratified by the quarterly court of Overton County, expressly repealed Private Acts of 1941, Chapter 68, as amended, in its entirety. In the event a vacancy should occur before the expiration of the term of office of the present incumbent, the vacancy would not be filled.

County Clerk

The following acts once affected the office of county clerk in Overton County. They are included herein for historical purposes. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

1. Private Acts of 1825, Chapter 125, stated that a judgment rendered in the circuit court of Davidson County, against Joseph Harris, clerk of the county court of Overton, and his securities for $5,000, be released, upon said Joseph Harris, paying the cost that shall have accrued upon said suit. The judgment stated that Joseph Harris failed to return a sheriff's bond from Davidson County to the treasurer of West Tennessee for the year 1824.
2. Private Acts of 1911, Chapter 301, fixed the salary of the county court clerk of Overton County, identified by the use of the 1910 Federal Census figures, at $1,200 per annum, payable quarterly on the warrant of the county judge and out of any county funds available. All the fees collected by the office of the county court clerk must be accounted for and paid into the county treasury.
3. Private Acts of 1913, Chapter 143, expressly and entirely repealed Private Acts of 1911, Chapter 301, above, which set the annually salary of the county court clerk.

County Mayor

The references below are of acts which once applied to the office of county judge, or county executive in Overton County. They are included herein for historical purposes only. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

1. Acts of 1855-56, Chapter 253, created and established the office of county judge for every county in Tennessee, who would be learned in the law and elected by the people for four year terms. The county judge would be commissioned as other judges are and exercise the powers and authority specifically granted to him in this act. 3. Public Acts of 1887, Chapter 164, provided that the people of Overton County would elect a county judge for a four year term who was a citizen of the county, thirty years of age, or older, and of good moral character. He would have all the rights, power, and authority of other county judges and would also discharge the duties of the chairman of the county court which position was abolished. The annual salary was set at $300 to be paid out of the county revenues collected during the year the services were rendered. The chairman, however, would continue to hold office until the Judge was duly elected hereunder. This act was repealed by Private Acts of 1915, Chapter 535.
4. Acts of 1909, Chapter 582, amended Public Acts of 1887, Chapter 164, above, by adding a provision that the salary of the county judge of Overton County shall hereafter be $600 a year, payable quarterly out of regular county revenue but the salary of the present Judge shall not be increased during the current term.
5. Private Acts of 1915, Chapter 535, expressly repeals Public Acts of 1887, Chapter 164, Item 3, above, which created the position of county judge for Overton County.

The justices received $4.00 per diem for their attendances, and five cents per mile for each mile traveled to and from the courthouse. The money was paid out from the county revenue; provided, that mileage be allowed for attendance for not more than two days. Furthermore, justices who lived beyond five miles of the courthouse were not entitled to receive mileage.
7. Private Acts of 1925, Chapter 331, established again the office of county judge, who would have an eight year term and be paid a salary of $1,200 annually, out of regular county funds. The first judge would be elected in the August 1926, election, sworn, and bonded for $10,000, but the governor would appoint someone to serve until September 1, 1926. The judge must be licensed to practice law and must discharge the duties and responsibilities generally specified. The county court would meet on the first Monday in each month and continue open until the docket was completed while the quarterly court would continue to meet as required by law. Nothing herein shall interfere with the duties of the county court clerk in relation to the court. The judge was allowed to practice law except in his court.

8. Private Acts of 1931, Chapter 75, amended Private Acts of 1925, Chapter 331, above, by deleting the section which required the county judge to be an attorney licensed to practice law in courts of record and substituted a provision which set a minimum age limit of thirty years, required the judge to be learned in the law and qualified to hold the office. This act was repealed in Item 9, below.
9. Private Acts of 1933, Chapter 459, stated that the annual salary of the county judge of Overton County should hereafter from September 1, 1934, be $600 instead of $1200.
10. Private Acts of 1935, Chapter 453, specifically repealed Private Acts of 1931, Chapter 75, as amended Item 7, above, in its entirety.

He shall further have the jurisdiction with chancellors to remove the disabilities of infancy from minors. This was properly ratified by the quarterly court.

The court would sit for one week, or longer, up to 2 weeks, if the docket required that long to complete.
15. Private Acts of 1826, Chapter 78, stated that the justices of the peace in several counties named in the act, including Overton County, on the first day of the January term of court, a majority of the justices being present and agreeing thereto, could select three of their number as a quorum court, to hold the court for the remainder of the year under the same rules and regulations as were observed by the full court.

a justice of the peace, or a constable. This act required the county election commission of Overton County to hold elections in each precinct but not before May 15, 1949, nor no later than June 1, 1949, in order to select the justice and constable for each district missing them. Those now in office would stay in the district in which they lived until their term expired. The election would be under the general law.

Chapter III - Bond Issues

Bond Issues - Historical Notes

A listing of the acts which authorized various bond issues for Overton County is included below for reference purposes, although these acts are no longer current. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

Debts

1. Private Acts of 1925, Chapter 702, was the enabling legislation for the quarterly court of Overton County to issue up to $42,000 in bonds at an interest rate not to exceed 6%, and to mature over a schedule which could not exceed twenty years, to refund and pay off a like amount of bond debts maturing in December, 1925. All the essential details of valid bond law were present, a special tax levy was required for the sinking fund in order to amortize these bonds and they must recite on their face that they are refunding bonds. The original bonds were issued under the authority of Public Acts of 1887, Chapter 3, which permitted counties to buy the stock of railroads incorporated in Tennessee and to issue bonds to pay for it.
2. Private Acts of 1935, Chapter 172, ratified, validated, and confirmed all the proceedings previously held by the quarterly court of Overton County in connection with the issuance of $100,000 in refunding bonds at 5% interest, due February 1, 1949, but optioned for a longer period. The bond issue was confirmed and legalized in all respects and they were declared to be the incontestable obligations of Overton County. The debts for which the bonds were issued were also declared to be the obligations of the county government. A tax levy for the sinking fund was a mandatory obligation of the law.

3. Private Acts of 1935, Chapter 298, also validated, confirmed, and legalized all the prior proceedings and actions of the Overton County Quarterly Court taken in connection with the issuance of $438,000 in refunding bonds in Overton County, at an interest rate of 5%, due and callable between 1939 and February 1, 1949. The bonds are declared to be general obligation bonds of the county to whose payment the full faith and credit of the county are pledged. These bonds are to refund the debts of some road bonds issued several years before. A special tax levy must be made until these bonds are paid with interest.
4. Private Acts of 1937, Chapter 73, validated all the proceedings of the quarterly court with reference to a bond issue of $155,000, in funding bonds, designated as Series 1936, at 4½% interest and callable at the discretion of the court. The debts to be paid by the bonds are also validated and confirmed. The mandatory tax levy was included in the law.
5. Private Acts of 1941, Chapter 86, stated that the resolution of the Overton County Quarterly Court, passed January 6, 1941, which authorized the issuance of $145,000 in bonds, at 4% annual interest, callable serially through 1959, is hereby in all things validated, confirmed, ratified, and legalized. The quarterly court may proceed to deliver the bonds and the county officials who are required to participate in these acts are hereby fully authorized to do so

Roads

1. Acts of 1909, Chapter 300, allowed the quarterly court of Overton County, subject to approval by the people in a referendum, to issue bonds up to $100,000, due and payable within 30 years after the date of issuance, and bearing an interest rate of 4½%, or less, to build roads in the county. The sale of the bonds and the implementation of the entire project would be supervised by a five member county road commission, who would have a chairman, and a secretary, who would both be paid $25.00 a month as the other members of the commission drew $5.00 per month. The commission would solicit bids and award contracts in the best interests of the county and were not to have any personal interest at all in any of the program's phases. All the essential details of a valid bond issue were mentioned and a mandatory tax levy provided.
2. Private Acts of 1911, Chapter 666, permitted the Overton County Court to issue up to $150,000 in 5%, 30 year bonds, provided approval was given by the people in a referendum, to build roads and to construct all essential bridges with proper approaches. The election would be held at county expense, and the county judge would be the exclusive arbiter of its passage. All the necessary details and the tax levy for the sinking fund were included, which could not exceed fifty cents per $100.00 of property valuation. This act named Thomas R. Poteet, Houston Bilbrey, W. C. Fleming, Jr., W. C. Murphy, Bob Chilton, J. A. Butler, J. C. Bilbrey, E. M. Smith, J. A. Hargrove, J. N. Ray, W. H. Qualls, Irving Allred, W. Y. Keesling, and Thomas Smith to the road commission. The secretary of the commission would be in charge of the program from start to completion. This act was repealed below.
3. Private Acts of 1913, Chapter 67, specifically repeals Private Acts of 1911, Chapter 666, Item 2, above, in its entirety.
4. Private Acts of 1915, Chapter 544, was the legal authority to hold a referendum election, after giving the lawful notice, in Overton County, to decide on the issuance of $160,000 in bonds to connect the county road system with the Dixie Highway or with other public highways in other counties so as to give the county the best possible coordinated public road patterns. These bonds, if approved, were limited to 5% interest, and the maturity period could not exceed thirty years. W. C. Crawford, W. C. Fleming, John B. McDonald, Jr., Irving Allred, and J. C. Bilbrey were appointed by the act to be the road commission who would supervise and coordinate the entire program. The commission had the authority to hire an engineer, if needed. Six county roads are listed in the act which were required to be the nucleus of the matter.
5. Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 27, amended Private Acts of 1915, Chapter 544, Item 4, above, by increasing the amount of bonds to be issued from $160,000 to $200,000 and by replacing commissioner W. C. Crawford with W. F. Judd; J. B. McDonald, by W. Y. Keesling; and W. C. Fleming by George W. Lee. Section 5 was deleted and a new list of roads was inserted which would have the priority of either construction or improvement. The act provided for $10,000 to be placed in an incidental fund and the trustee was directed to keep ten separate accounts, one for the incidentals, and one for each of the nine roads listed. All state and federal funds received shall - be prorated and used according to the terms of the grant.

6. Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 478, amended Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 27, immediately above, in Section 3, by changing the sections of two roads which were scheduled to be improved, the Jack Ray Grade, or Pike, and the Livingston-Byrdstown Road.
 7. Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 792, also amended Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 27, by adding a provision at the end of Section 3, of the amending act, that the Good Roads Commissioners, in their discretion, could spend the $10,000 appropriated by that section as an incidental fund on an alternate road between Livingston and Monroe, running through the seventh civil district towards Willow Grove and on the Clay County line.
 8. Private Acts of 1919, Chapter 463, allowed the quarterly court of Overton County the right to issue up to $150,000 in bonds, at an interest rate of not more than 6%, and to mature as directed by the court, but no more than ten years, which funds would be used to locate, grade, construct, and macadamize a road running east and west through Overton County so as to connect with the main public highway in the west, the road leading from Livingston to Cookeville, to the east side, connecting with the road from Byrdstown. A special tax levy was required to amortize the bonds. The state was to contribute half the cost and the state highway department would be in charge. The county trustee would handle all the money and be held accountable.
 9. Private Acts of 1921, Chapter 12, amended Private Acts of 1919, Chapter 463, above, by changing some of the details in the maturity schedules of the bonds authorized to be issued in that act so as to make them callable upon agreement between the county judge, or chairman, and the county court clerk, at some point in time between 11 and 20 years from the issuing date. All the bonds not yet sold shall comply with these amendments. No bonds sold under the legal sanction of these two acts shall be contestable for want of form or from lack of statutory authority, all being hereby ratified, confirmed, and validated.
 10. Private Acts of 1921, Chapter 507, expressly and entirely repealed Private Acts of 1921, Chapter 12, above. Private Acts of 1919, Chapter 463, is amended to provide that interest payments on the bonds issued by the authority of that act shall be paid semi-annually instead of annually. The calling in for payment of the bonds shall be at the option of the chairman and the county court clerk on any interest date after ten years from the date of said notes and bonds which mature 20 years after date. The act further confirms the sale of $50,000 in these bonds to Caldwell and Company in Nashville, dated January 1, 1921.
 11. Private Acts of 1921, Chapter 856, amended Private Acts of 1919, Chapter 463, by raising the total amount of bonds which were allowable under that act from $150,000 to $300,000 at the appropriate places in the act.
 12. Private Acts of 1923, Chapter 5, recited that Overton County, under Private Acts of 1919, Chapter 463, had been allowed to issue up to $150,000 in 6% bonds, or less, to build macadamized, or hard surfaced roads, that Private Acts of 1921, Chapter 507, had struck out the optional dates for maturity of the bonds and set up definite times for the same on which principal and interest would be paid, that Private Acts of 1921, Chapter 856, had raised the limitation on the amount of the bonds from $150,000 to $300,000, that the quarterly county court of Overton County, acting under these authorities had ordered the issuance of $100,000 in bonds on January 1, 1922, which were sold to Caldwell and Company in Nashville, Tennessee, at par value, that the proceeds of the bonds sold were made available to the state highway department who have started construction of the highway from Livingston to the Putnam County line in the direction of Cookeville, and that there now exists some doubt of the validity of the said bonds which has caused some confusion, this act ratifies, confirms, validates, and legalizes all actions in connection with the above.
 13. Private Acts of 1923, Chapter 286, was the enabling law for the quarterly court of Overton County to issue up to $300,000 in bonds to aid in the construction of hard-surfaced roads, graveled or macadamized, to extend north and south from the county line to the county line passing through Livingston so that the location of the road shall first be determined by the county court and their decision then approved by referendum of the people. The court may select the route and then appoint a five member road commission to sell bonds and to supervise the entire programs. Detailed provisions were established for the elections to be held, and details incorporating construction guidelines were adopted. Bond interest could not exceed 6%, and they would fall due at one-third in ten years, one-third in twenty years, and the rest in thirty years. The road commission must cooperate with other governments to effectuate the project while the trustee would keep all the pertinent records.
 14. Private Acts of 1923, Chapter 699, amended Private Acts of 1919, Chapter 463, which is Item 8, above, by adding a provision to Section 5 to the effect that the county court of Overton County could proceed to sell the bonds authorized by the act even though the state highway department had failed to cooperate in the construction of the road. The act also amended Section 6 with the same language.

15. Private Acts of 1927, Chapter 679, was the legal authority for the Overton County Quarterly Court to issue up to $400,000 in 5%, 40 year, bonds, redeemable as the court may direct, all of which would be used for highway purposes. The action must be approved by referendum before the issue, or the same becomes null and void. The court may issue bonds in twice the amount of any aid or assistance offered by the state highway department, and may pay over sums set by the state highway department to be used on part of the state general road system, or on roads which were to become a part of the system. The bonds were to be general obligation bonds for which the full faith and credit of the county were pledged.

Schools

1. Private Acts of 1947, Chapter 237, ratified, confirmed, validated, and legalized all the prior proceedings of the quarterly court and other officers of Overton County with respect to the authorization and issuance of $28,000 in bonds for school purposes, and the tax levy heretofore made to pay the principal and interest on the bonds is likewise ratified and approved. The bonds, delivered or not, are declared to be the general obligations of Overton County.

Boundaries - Historical Notes

The following is a summary of acts which authorized boundary changes for Overton County.

1. Acts of 1806, Second Session, Chapter 50, permitted James Chissum, of Overton County, to run the true boundary lines between Overton County and Jackson County. He was allowed to hire two chain carriers who would be paid $1.00 per day, the surveyor being paid $2.00 per day.
2. Acts of 1809, Second Session, Chapter 40, was the legal authority for William Phillips, of Overton County, to employ some surveyor to run a line beginning at a point in the present dividing line between Overton County and White County, east of Phillip's house 10 poles, west 40 poles to a point, south to the present line dividing two counties, so as to include the present dwelling house of Phillips in White County, a plat of the boundary change to be made and filed in both counties of Phillip's expense.
3. Acts of 1817, Chapter 8, stated that the house and premises occupied by the heirs of William Quarles, deceased, shall be annexed to Overton County and the Cumberland Road at that place shall be considered as the dividing line between Overton County and White County. Nothing in this act will prevent the sheriff of White County from collecting back taxes.
4. Acts of 1817, Chapter 81, Section 2, declared that doubt has existed for some time on the bounds of Overton County, therefore a line shall be run between Overton County and Morgan County beginning at the corner of Morgan County where Robert Johnson now lives on the Cumberland River, thence north, 12½ degrees east to the Kentucky State line, which shall be the dividing line between the said counties. James Chism is appointed surveyor to run and mark the line and Garrett Hal is named to mark the line, a plat of which must be made and recorded. The surveyor would be paid $3.00 per day, the commissioner $2.00, and the markers, $1.00.
5. Private Acts of 1819, Chapter 63, restored Jackson County's boundary to its constitutional limits and called for the prevention of disputes between the citizens of Morgan and Overton counties.
6. Private Acts of 1826, Chapter 168, was the legislative authority for Aron Higginbottom, of Warren County, and Jonathan C. Davis, of White County, to resurvey the lines of Overton County so as to ascertain accurately the number of square miles therein. If there is not enough land to meet constitutional requirements, the surveyor shall continue east with the said line until there is enough land, and make a plat of the area. Sam Brown and Jacob Robertson, of White County and Hampton Hughes, of Jackson County, are named commissioners to examine the central point of Overton County for a suitable place for a town, and the sheriff of Overton County shall hold an election to gather the will of the people on moving the county seat from Monroe.
7. Private Acts of 1827, Chapter 157, nominated William Galbraith, of Jackson County, to resurvey the bounds of Overton County to determine the amount of square miles contained in the county. If the number of square miles is less than the constitution requires, the surveyor shall continue east with the said line of the state, and south with a line parallel with the east boundary of Jackson County until the boundary of Morgan County is intersected. A map and a plat of the county lines must be made and filed in the two counties. Anthony Diboral, of White County, and Amos Kirkpatrick and William Scanlon, both of Jackson County, are appointed commissioners to pin point the central portion of the county for a county seat in Overton County. A number of guidelines are expressed which must be followed until the results mentioned are achieved.
8. Private Acts of 1829-30, Chapter 154, appointed Burchett Douglas, of Wilson County, or, in case of his failure to attend, Jonathan C. Davis, of White County, to resurvey Overton County to find out with certainty the actual number of square miles in the county. The remainder of the act is practically identical with those above on the same subject.

9. Private Acts of 1831, Chapter 62, named Burchett Douglas, of Wilson County, and, in the event he did not do so, then Jonothan C. Davis, of White County, as surveyors, to ascertain the center of Overton County. Three plats of the work must be filed with the county court of Overton County. The surveyors would be paid $3.00 per day, plus $5.00 for going and $5.00 for coming, and the chain carriers would be paid $1.50 per day worked. Isham Perkins and John Cain, of Warren County, William Simpson, Isaac Taylor, and Samuel Johnson, of White County, Richard F. Cook and David Apple, of Jackson County, are named as commissioners to examine the central point to see if the same it suitable for a town and report their findings to the quarterly court of Overton County. If the site is not a suitable place for a county seat, then Monroe shall continue in that capacity. The town to be laid off at the central point shall be called Livingston in honor of Edward Livingston.
10. Private Acts of 1831, Chapter 153, provided that the dividing line between Overton and Fentress County shall be altered so as to make Willis Huddleston a citizen of Overton County. The line shall begin where the county line now crosses the old path leading from the Huddleston house to his cotton gin, running 125 poles east, thence south with the variation of the county line the same distance, thence west to the line run by Burchett Douglas, which shall be the line hereafter.
11. Acts of 1845-46, Chapter 75, recited that Putnam County was formed out of portions of Jackson, White, and Overton counties in 1841, and was duly organized as a county. Further, that, at the March term of the chancery court at Livingston in Overton County, the Honorable Bromfield L. Ridley, Chancellor, in the case of Patrick Pool and William Goodbar, complainants, against William H. Carr, et al., quashed the Formation of Putnam County because such action reduced Overton and Jackson counties both below their constitutional limits of 625 square miles, and great inconvenience and concern have arisen, this act validates all marriages, conveyances of land, deeds, mortgages, and other instruments executed when the county existed, and all other acts done in good faith by county officials.

32. Public Acts of 1931, Second Extra Session, Chapter 38, is the last major reorganization of the lower courts of Tennessee which appears in the volumes of private acts. Subsequent changes were public acts and appear in the Tennessee Code Annotated. This act produced twenty judicial circuits, the fifth being composed of the counties of Clay, White, Jackson, Putnam, Cumberland, Pickett and Overton where the circuit court terms would begin on the first Monday in March, July and November.
33. Private Acts of 1935, Chapter 816, rendered null and void the fines and costs which were adjudged against Haskell Matthews, convicted in the circuit court of Overton County on charges of violating the bone dry law and disturbing public worship, and against Bob Matthews, who admitted to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor, the same being canceled.

Circuit Court - Clerk

The following acts have no current effect, but once applied to the Overton County Circuit Court Clerk. They were repealed, superseded, or never received local approval. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

1. Private Acts of 1829-30, Chapter 183, was the legal authority for the register and the circuit court clerk of Overton County to keep their offices at any place within one-half miles of the courthouse of the county.
2. Acts of 1903, Chapter 255, was another of the early salary acts enacted as general law but this one concerned the circuit court clerks alone and set their annual salary according to the population of the county in which they served. Other conditions about filing a sworn, itemized statement of all fees collected in the office had to be met. According to our population figures, the circuit court clerk of Overton County would have been paid $500.00 a year under this law. If the fees did not meet that figure, the county would make up the difference; if the fees exceeded the figure, the clerk was permitted to keep the excess.
3. Private Acts of 1911, Chapter 532, provided that the circuit court clerk of Overton County shall be paid out of the county treasury the sum of $1,200 per annum, payable quarterly. The clerk shall keep an account of all fees collected and pay them into the county treasury. This act was repealed by the one following.
4. Private Acts of 1913, Chapter 267, specifically repealed Private Acts of 1911, Chapter 532, above, which set the annual salary of the circuit court clerk.

Criminal Court

The following acts once pertained to the Overton County Criminal Court, but are no longer current law. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

2. Private Acts of 1931, Chapter 298, amended Acts of 1907, Chapter 85, Section 3, published herein, by changing the terms of the criminal court of Clay County but did not have any bearing on any other county.
3. Private Acts of 1933, Chapter 889, relieved Hoy Clark, and his sureties, from the payment of a fine of $100.00 and cost in Overton County. The fine was declared to be null, void, and of no effect and is therefore cancelled, having been assessed against the said Hoy Clark in the criminal court of Overton County on a conviction of violating the bone dry law.
4. Public Acts of 1977, Chapter 444, created a second division of the criminal court for the fifth judicial circuit, which Overton was a part of. The act also provided for the appointment and the election of a Judge to preside over such court and to amend Section 16-2114 of T.C.A. by fixing the time for holding the criminal court in Overton County to the third Mondays in February, June and October.

The fifth solicitorial district was composed of the counties of Bledsoe, Warren, White, Overton and Jackson. The general assembly would appoint an attorney-general for each district who would prosecute in the name of the state. Their annual salary was $125.00 except in the district where the supreme court met where the salary was $150.00 a year.
2. Public Acts of 1819, Chapter 4, stated that the counties of Warren, White, Overton and Jackson shall be and remain as the fifth solicitorial district. Bledsoe, Marion, Rhea, Hamilton and McMinn counties were taken out to form the eleventh solicitorial district.

This act was repealed by the one below.
4. Private Acts of 1919, Chapter 166, repealed Acts of 1907, Chapter 381, above, in its entirety.
5. Public Acts of 1970, Chapter 537, provided for an additional full-time assistant district attorneys general for the fifth judicial circuit and to provide for the appointment, qualifications, duties and compensation of such officer.

Education/Schools - Historical Notes

The following acts constitute part of the administrative and political heritage of the educational structure of Overton County but are no longer operative since they have either been superseded, repealed, or failed to receive local approval. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

1. Acts of 1806, Second Session, Chapter 8, named all the academies across the state which were to be the county academies. This act incorporated Moses Fisk, John Overton, James Chisum, John B. Cross, and Henry Ragan as the trustees for Overton Academy which would be the county academy for that county. Necessary rules and regulations as prescribed for other county academies were also imposed on this one. This act was repealed by Acts of 1826, Chapter 176.
2. Acts of 1806, Second Session, Chapter 14, recited in the preamble that it had been reported to the general assembly that Moses Fisk and Sampson Williams are both willing to contribute 1000 acres of land each as an endowment of a female academy to be established at a place called Hillham on the eastern part of Magnolia Ridge in Overton County and so this act provides for the academy under the name of Fisk's Female Academy, and names Fisk, William Chandler, William Ballard, James Chisholm and Sampson Williams as trustees.
3. Acts of 1812, Second Session, Chapter 51, appointed John Grave and William Marchbanks as additional trustees for Overton Academy in Overton County.
4. Acts of 1813, Chapter 130, was the legal authority for the trustees of Overton Academy in Overton County to publish a lottery scheme on such plan as they may consider proper to raise up to $3,000 to be used for the benefit of the academy. The trustees must execute a proper bond

- and conduct the lottery according to the rules agreed upon and the regulations established under existing law. The act named as trustees and commissioners for the lottery Archibald Rhea, George Christian, Simon Huddleston, Abel Willis, William Chilton, Andrew Steele, James Whiteside, William Fleming, Benjamin Totten, and William Armstrong.
5. Private Acts of 1826, Chapter 176, expressly repealed Acts of 1806, Chapter 8, Item 1, above, which created Overton Academy as a corporation. This act appointed George Finley, James McDowell, Joseph Bates, James Harrison, James Turner, George Heron, John Wheeler, Isaac Gore, William Nevins, Hugh C. Armstrong, and David Jackson as the trustees for Pleasant Forest Academy in Overton County, subject to the same rules and regulations as other academies. James McDowell was nominated as Chairman of the group.
 6. Private Acts of 1827, Chapter 38, Section 2, added James McDonald and William Turner to the trustees of Pleasant Forest Academy in Overton County.
 7. Private Acts of 1833, Chapter 67, made it the duty of the county court of Overton County, a majority of the justices being present, to appoint some skilled surveyor to identify, survey, and plainly mark, the several tracts of school lands located in the county. It was the responsibility of the surveyor chosen to make a plat of each parcel of school land, showing the water courses on them, and to file the same with an overall report with the county court who would make the surveyor a reasonable compensation payable from school funds, for his services, provided, however, that the surveyor shall have completed the surveys and filed the required plats with the county court within six months from the date of this act.
 8. Acts of 1837-38, Chapter 225, was the authority for the trustees of Pleasant Forest Academy in Overton County to change the location of the academy from Monroe, or vicinity, to the town of Livingston, and a majority vote of the Trustees would be sufficient to move the school.
 9. Acts of 1845-46, Chapter 71, recited that when the fractions of White, Overton, and Jackson counties, formerly composing the County of Putnam, shall make returns of the scholastic populations by their County Court Clerks in those areas for the years 1844 and 1845, to be comptroller of the treasury of the state, and it should appear to the comptroller that they were not paid their rightful share of school money due them for those years, it is hereby declared lawful for the state comptroller to pay over to them their lawful portion of the funds which shall be applied exclusively in these areas and no other.
 10. Acts of 1845-46, Chapter 185, required that the trustees of Overton, Jackson, and White counties settle with the former school commissioners of the school districts in the said counties, and, if, such settlements being made, such school commissioners have paid out more money than they have on their hands and it is found that the district school funds are justly indebted to them, such trustee would refund to them the amount due out of the funds of such district.
 11. Acts of 1847-48, Chapter 31, stated that the balance of the school fund apportioned to Putnam County in the year 1844, and remaining unpaid to that former county, would be paid to the trustees of White, Jackson, and Overton counties in proportion to the scholastic population of those fragments of the said counties which formerly made up Putnam County, and the funds for 1845 would be taken from the next distributive share, and divided in like manner between White, Jackson, and Overton counties.
 12. Acts of 1855-56, Chapter 267, Section 18, was the legislative authority for the trustees of Overton and Fentress counties to pay out all school monies which have come, or may hereafter come, into their hands from the sale of lands, in like manner as other school funds are paid out but nothing in this act will permit the distribution of the principal amount of these funds.
 13. . Acts of 1903, Chapter 367, created an independent school district in the seventh civil district of Overton County so as to include within its boundaries the following farms, and be known as the Ozana School District, James Conner, Bud Clark, James Zachary, Henry Owens, Thomas Huffer, Sue Ragen, Gilbert Ramsey, and S. Mainard, moving east to include the farms of Joe Sells and D. S. Sells; north to include G. W. Taylor, John Conner, W. M. Spicer, and O. C. Waddle. This school district would be called the twenty-fourth school district of Overton County.
 14. Acts of 1903, Chapter 368, created school district No. 26 in the seventh civil district of Overton County, beginning at the Hatcher & Company mill, east to Diana Shoemake's line, to Moses Miller's line, so as to include Miller's lands, to S. Richardson's line, to G. P. Robert's line, to David Flower's line, to the Pickett County line, west with the Pickett County line to James Conner's line, up to Little Eagle Creek, and then to the beginning.
 15. Acts of 1905, Chapter 283, formed the twelfth school district in the eighth civil district of Overton County, which starts in the line between the eighth and ninth civil districts where Dry Hollow

- crosses, down Thomas Loaper's line to Houston Loaper's line, to J. B. Frances' line, to Benjamin Frances' line, to the public road, leading from Ray's Store to Monterey, to Ray's old storehouse, to W. T. Livingston's line, to A. A. Qualls' line, to S. S. Shelton's line, to William Oakley's land, to Harvey J. Frances' line, to Joe Bilbrey's line, to James Dickson's line, to Jesse Qualls' line, and back to the point of the beginning.
16. Acts of 1905, Chapter 521, established an independent school district in the sixth civil district of Overton County with a metes and bounds description which begins in the center of the Livingston and Jamestown Road on the northeast corner of the lands of E. D. White and runs through to G. W. Dillon's line, then east and south to the Henson's line, north and east to Eubank's line, and then back to the beginning.
 17. Acts of 1905, Chapter 524, formed an independent school district in the fourth, sixth, and seventh civil districts of Overton County, beginning with the James Dile farm and including the farms of Sarah Gunnells, W. E. White, C. R. White, A. Morrow, W. O. Miller, William Ruder, Eva Beard, Mrs. Davis, Joseph Sidwell, Paul Neal, R. Brown, Campbell Ogletree, A. F. Crabtree, James Winningham, M. J. Phillips, David Davis, A. W. Richardson, W. D. Dennis, T. B. Hunter, Nancy Lack, John House, S. T. Peterman, John Sehon, and M. G. Sehon, and then back to the beginning.
 18. Acts of 1905, Chapter 535, specifically repealed Acts of 1903, Chapter 240, as the same applied to Overton County, it being a general public law, and providing that Overton County be restored to her former authority to create, change, and annul her school districts.
 19. Acts of 1907, Chapter 161, was the enabling legislation for Dr. R. S. Burks, J. C. Bilbrey, W. R. Officer, R. L. Mitchell, Jr., and Phillip Myers, who made up the board of directors of Livingston Academy in Overton County to sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash, after giving 30 days notice, the Livingston Academy grounds and building and to convey a good and valid title to the purchaser. The proceeds of this sale were to be used to erect another school building in the city of Livingston on a tract of land conveyed to the Board by A. H. Roberts.
 20. Acts of 1907, Chapter 236, abolished all the district directors in every county school system in the state, and provided for a county board of education and a district board of advisors in their places. This act did not apply to city schools. From each of five school districts into which the county court would divide the county, one member of the board would initially be appointed by the county court and elected by the people at the next general regular August election. The duties of the board, the chairman, the secretary, and the members are all spelled out in the act. The county superintendent would be ex-officio secretary by virtue of his office. The board would be paid from $1.50 to $3.00 per day as set up by the county court, but for not more than 30 days each year. The three member advisory board would be elected by the people in each civil district and discharge the responsibilities enumerated for them in the bill. The county superintendent could fill vacancies on the advisory board. Nine counties exempted themselves from this act in Section 17 but Overton was not one of them. This act was part of the litigation in Whitthorne v. Turner, 155 Tenn. 303, S.W. 147 (1927).
 21. Acts of 1907, Chapter 281, formed the Bethsaida School District out of the first and second civil districts of Pickett County and the eleventh civil district of Overton County. A legal description of the area involved is incorporated into the law and is too lengthy to repeat here. The superintendent of public instruction in both counties would jointly appoint three commissioners to serve until the next general election when the commissioners shall be elected by the voters residing in this area delineated by the act.
 22. Private Acts of 1911, Chapter 293, amended Acts of 1909, Chapter 494, as the same applied to Overton County so that the compulsory attendance period for schools was reduced from 80 days per year as that act required, to 50 days for Overton County, and all other counties coming within this act.
 23. Private Acts of 1913, Chapter 274, amended Acts of 1907, Chapter 236, above, which was a general state law on school boards, in Section 17, by adding Overton County to the list of counties, exempting themselves from this act in that section, thus removing Overton County from its application.
 24. Private Acts of 1913, Extra Session, Chapter 71, authorized and empowered the county superintendent of schools in Overton County to call the clerks of the district school boards to meet at the county seat, and, it would be their duty and responsibility to agree on the prices to be paid to the teachers and the number of days of school to be taught in each district, all of which shall be equal and uniform throughout the county. Each school district and civil district are to be coextensive. Clerks will be paid $1.50 per day for all the time required to comply herewith.
 25. Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 96, declared that in Overton, Marion, and Rutherford counties, the superintendent of public instruction in those counties would be elected by the qualified voters of each of a four year term, starting at the next general August election, the successful candidates assuming office on January 1, following. This act shall not affect the term or the duties of the current superintendents in these counties.

26. Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 555, stated that in Overton and Pickett counties, both identified by the use of the 1910 Federal Census tabulations, the superintendent of public instruction, as soon as they have been told for certain the amount of school funds to be used in their county, shall call a meeting of the district school directors at the county seat to advise them of the same. The directors shall meet no later than May 20 of each year and shall select one of their number to sit on the board of education. Another meeting shall be called before July 1 to agree on a price to be paid to teachers and the number of school days to be taught, which shall be equal and uniform throughout the county. Directors shall serve for two years and employ the teachers for their districts. The compensation for members of the school board shall be $1.50 a day. Two, or more, schools may be consolidated under certain conditions and the directors shall be responsible to see that each school has seats, desks, stoves, and such, and is in good repair.
27. Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 670, also formed the Bethsaida School District out of Overton and Pickett counties describing the area involved and naming the farms in the description of James Smith, W. R. Holbert, Liz Smith, B. McDonald, John King, Peter Boshier, J. P. Crouch, Dock Winningham, Mira Hill, Mack Holt, and C. C. Jones. This district will be given its pro rata share of school funds according to the scholastic population. The superintendent of schools in each county shall jointly appoint a three man board of school directors, no more than two from one county to serve until their successors can be elected at the next election which shall be held at the schoolhouse on the fourth Saturday in may before the general August election in 1918. The directors shall count the school population jointly and in each county. This act was repealed by Private Acts of 1925, Chapter 573.
28. Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 707, is a duplicate of Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 670, above, which created the Bethsaida School District in Overton and Pickett counties.
29. Private Acts of 1921, Chapter 831, formed an independent special school district in Overton County in the tenth and eleventh civil districts which included the farms and lands of A. G. Narrad, J. B. McDonald's cove farm, J. F. Brown, J. L. Allison, Mrs. Etta McDonald, and M. J. Hancock; on the south side were included the farms of A. H. Copeland, A. C. Norris, Sol Norris, J. C. Vaughn, F. M. Ledford, Shirley Ledford, Mrs. Nora Winton, and J. K. P. Ledbetter; on the east were the farms of Cynthia McDonald, T. M. Ledford, Porter Carlock, J. A. McDonald, the Alfred Mill tract, and Will McDonald; on the west side were the farms of J. E. Winton, J. F. Deck, J. M. Sells, F. S. Crabtree, G. S. Beasley, Thomas Williamson, and E. H. Copeland. The act named E. A. Copeland, A. H. Copeland, and C. P. Neely as directors of the district.
30. Private Acts of 1925, Chapter 703, created special school district No. 15, a common and high school district, in Overton County, which would begin at Chester Ogletree's farm, running east with the line of the twelfth and sixth civil district to Mrs. Tim Lynn's farm; north to Sarah Gunnell's farm; northwest with the line of the twelfth and seventh civil district to J. K. Hunter's farm; thence with the twelfth and fourth civil district line to K. Maynard's farm; thence south to include the lands of Thad Kyce, Kelly Hunter, and Anyous Gunnell's farm; thence on a direct line to Dave Davis' farm; thence on a direct line to Reece Ogletree's farm; and thence back to the beginning. The act appoints Billy Davis, C. P. Hunter, and W. O. Miller as school directors until the election in August, 1926, who would exercise all the power and authority of other school directors. The directors must choose a chairman and secretary, and submit a scholastic census for the school district.
31. Private Acts of 1931, Chapter 507, recited in the preamble that the board of education of Overton County entered into contracts with Gracie Dean White, and Annie Lizzie Clark, whereby the two of them would teach school in 1927 and 1928, which they both did and the services of each one were accepted by the county board of education. The contracts were later declared to be invalid because neither of them possessed a certificate of qualification to teach from the state, and the board of education has refused to pay them. This act validates, ratifies, confirms, and legalizes the above mentioned contracts and authorizes the board of education to compensate these teachers with interest. The general assembly was compelled to pass this act over the governor's veto on June 24, 1931.
32. Private Acts of 1935, Chapter 30, amended Private Acts of 1933, Chapter 136, by inserting a new Section 2 and Section 3. Section 2 provided for seven school districts in the county instead of five, the same being composed of whole civil districts. Section 3 provided for a seven member board of education instead of a five member board whose members would be elected by popular vote in their respective districts. Section 5 was changed to place the duties of the superintendent of public instruction under the general law by removing the requirement that he employ the personnel recommended by the school board in Livingston for that school system.

33. Private Acts of 1943, Chapter 382, amended Private Acts of 1933, Chapter 136, as amended by Private Acts of 1935, Chapter 30, by striking out Section 2 of the Private Acts of 1935, Chapter 30, and adding a provision that the superintendent of public instruction of Overton County would have the same duties as are fixed by general law and render to the county the same services, except that it shall be the duty of the superintendent to accept the assistance of the board of education of the city of Livingston insofar as that assistance relates to the selection of teachers and other officers of the schools, and the county board of education is hereby required and directed to employ only those teachers and officers in Livingston as are recommended by the board. Provided, in all cases, that those recommended meet the standards and qualifications of the county and state, it being the intention of this act to permit the town of Livingston to select its teachers and school officials. This act names Bedford H. Hosman, Clarence Davis, and James Kuykendall as the Livingston Board of Education. This act was entirely repealed by Private Acts of 1951, Chapter 437, below.
34. Highways and Roads - Historical Notes

The following is a listing of acts which once had some effect upon the county road system in Overton County, but which are no longer operative. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

1. Acts of 1812, Second Session, Chapter 74, enabled Moses Fisk to open a road from Hilham to the highlands south of Roaring River crossing below its junction with Spring Creek. This road must be twenty feet wide and fourteen feet kept clear at all times. The county court of Overton County, when notified by the said Fisk that the road is open, shall appoint three householders to inspect the road. If the road is approved and accepted, Fisk and his heirs have the right to manage the same for twenty years and to charge the tolls scheduled in the act. The road shall further be subject to all the rules and regulations concerning turnpikes.
2. Acts of 1817, Chapter 191, was the legal authority for Moses Fisk to open a road from the town of Hilham to the north bank of Obed's River, crossing anywhere above William Dales place. When notified by Fisk that the road is open the county court shall appoint three householders to inspect it. Fisk was then further obliged to keep the road in good maintenance and repair and as long as it was in that condition, Fisk could charge users the tolls specified in the act.
3. Private Acts of 1820, Second Session, Chapter 25, permitted Madison M'Laurine, of Overton County to open and keep up a turnpike road from Pilot Knob, near Joseph Batis, in Overton

- County to the Kentucky line for a period of ten years. The road must be at least eighteen feet wide and clear of obstructions at all times. Valentine Matlock and Lewis Huddleston were appointed commissioners to inspect the road and approve, or disapprove it. The road would be inspected now, and quarterly hereafter. As long as the road met the construction and maintenance criteria, the proprietors could charge tolls at the approved rate, but no higher.
4. Public Acts of 1821, Chapter 6, directed the county courts of all the Tennessee counties to classify and index the roads in their respective counties. They were to be classified according to width and surfacing materials. The classes ranged from stage roads to one wide enough to permit passage of two horses and riders on the way to mill or market. This is probably the first overall road law in Tennessee and was a step towards the coordinated transportation network every county and state must have to thrive and be competitive.
 5. Private Acts of 1822, Second Session, Chapter 164, legally allowed George Helms, and Adam Helms to open and maintain a turnpike road from the head of Wolf's River in Piles Turnpike Road, thence the most direct route on Cumberland Mountain towards Jacksonborough, so as to intersect the road leading from Jacksonborough to Somerset in Kentucky. The road must meet all the specifications outlined in the act, and the tolls charged must be in line with the schedule mentioned. Henry Frances and John Royall are named commissioners to examine the road and report its condition quarterly to the Overton County Quarterly Court. The commissioners would be paid $1.00 per day for each day spent in discharging their responsibilities under this act.
 6. Private Acts of 1827, Chapter 18, recited that it appeared to the general assembly that Madison M'Laurine had transferred his rights to the turnpike road leading from the foot of Pilot's Knob near Joseph Bates, in Overton County, to the Kentucky line, near Captain Elliotts, to James A. Whiteside, and, it further appears to the general assembly, that Whiteside desires to relinquish his rights in the said road to the State of Tennessee, therefore, it is hereby declared that this road is placed upon the same footing and under the same rules and regulations as are all the other state public roads.
 7. Private Acts of 1831, Chapter 226, gave Moses Fisk the right to change the course of the road he is to build so that, instead of running from Hillham to the north bank of the Obed's River, striking the same at or above the mouth of Mill Creek. He shall have one year to complete this road and two years to finish the road previously authorized, but the citizens of Overton and Jackson counties living where the said road runs or within five miles of the toll gate shall pass along free of charge.
 8. Private Acts of 1832, Chapter 13, appointed Patrick Potts as commissioner for the turnpike leading through Overton and White counties, of which Robert Officer is proprietor, in the place of Enoch Murphy, the former commissioner of the road. Potts would have the same authority and compensation as his predecessors.
 9. Private Acts of 1835-36, Chapter 62, declared that the Wolf River from its mouth up to the ford near James Seatons was navigable and any persons placing obstructions therein shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to fines of $50.00 for each offense, onehalf to the person prosecuting and one-half to the county.

The specifications for the road must be met as they are expressed in the act, and tolls not to exceed those mentioned in this law may be charged. The company has five years to complete the road and then will have a franchise for the next thirty years following but citizens of Overton County may pass the toll gates free.

He would be sworn, bonded, and in charge of all roads, bridges, hands, tools and materials used in his area, and be compensated at the rate of $1.00 per day but for no more than 10 days each year. county court would set the days road hands would work, from five to eight, and fix the price on a day's labor. The county court could levy a special road tax of two cents per $100.00 property for each day the road hands were required to work. Road commissioners would name and supervise road overseers in their districts who would supervise a road section, work the same number of compulsory days as anyone else and then be paid up to $6.00 a year for extra work. All males outside of cities between ages of 21 and 45 must work on the roads. The commissioners would dispose of petitions to open, close, or change a road, would classify and index the roads in their districts, and would see that roads met the basic specification set up in the act. This act was involved in the case of Carroll v. Griffith, 117 Tenn. 500, 97 S.W. 66 (1906).
 18. Acts of 1905, Chapter 478, amended Acts of 1901, Chapter 136, Item 17, in several minor particulars but primarily in the procedures to be followed in the exercise of eminent domain to acquire rights of way.
 19. Private Acts of 1913, Extra Session, Chapter 107, was the first comprehensive road law for Overton County and provided that the county court would elect one road commissioner from each civil district and one from the town of Livingston to two year terms. The court was given the authority to levy a tax from 15 cents to 30 cents per $100 property valuation to keep up the county roads, and to buy machinery, equipment, and materials. The trustee would collect this tax as any other tax. The county court would also set the days each male between 21 and 45, outside cities, would work on the roads, ranging from five to eight, or pay $1.00 a day in commutation fees. The commissioner would appoint overseers and assign them to road sections to be worked, sending each a sufficient number of road hands to accomplish the same. Overseers would serve one year in their jobs. The county court clerk would furnish books upon which the commissioners would keep records.  20. Private Acts of 1915, Chapter 632, amended Private Acts of 1913, Extra Session, Chapter 107.

Section 7 was amended to make the commissioners liable to settle with the county judge, or chairman, at the end of the year. Section 8 was rewritten to make it a misdemeanor for the road commissioner to fail to perform his duties for which he may be fined, and the commissioners were required to place mile boards at proper places on all first and second class roads for which a fine could also be levied when not done. The county court may elect at any time a road superintendent who must be an engineer and who would be paid by order of the court after performing suitably the responsibilities delegated to him by the court. Each road overseer shall cause all his roads to be inspected annually and remove all timber and obstructions from them and drain the road in a proper fashion.

21. Private Acts of 1917, Chapter 641, amended Private Acts of 1913, Extra Session Chapter 107, by removing the authority of the county court to elect a road commission for the city of Livingston, and by adding a provision that the county court shall have no authority, or jurisdiction, over the streets, or alleys, and the road taxes collected in the city but the mayor and aldermen of that city shall hereafter be responsible for the care and keeping of those passageways, and for working and repairing them.
22. Private Acts of 1935, Chapter 439, was the next general road law for Overton County with a general repealing clause. This act provided for a three member county highway commission of good taxpaying citizens who would be elected by the voters of each road district for a two year term, taking office on September 1 following the general August election beginning in 1936, whose duty it was and would be to provide an efficient road system. The first road district was composed of civil districts 1, 2, 3 and 5; the third road district had in it civil districts 8, 9, 10 and 11; and the second road district was made up of civil districts 6, 12, 4 and 7. The chairman of the commission, selected by the others, would be the agent of the county in its transactions with the State of Tennessee. The commission may employ a road superintendent at no more than $100.00 a month who shall perform the duties of the former road commissioners and such others as this commission may designate. The commission may also employ any other people it considers necessary to carry on the work. The commission is in overall charge of roads, bridges, tools, equipment, and materials while the superintendent was granted all the authority of the district road commissioners. The commissioners would be paid a salary fixed by the county court plus expenses when the expenses were justified and supported. The commission would make an annual report to the quarterly court in January of each year upon which the road program for that year would be based.
23. Private Acts of 1939, Chapter 191, stated that no person in Overton County, identified by the use of the 1930 Federal Census for the county, shall be compelled to perform manual labor upon the roads of the county or to commute by paying money in lieu thereof. This act was repealed by the one following below.
24. Private Acts of 1941, Chapter 374, expressly repealed Private Acts of 1939, Chapter 191, which released the citizens of Overton County from manual compulsory road labor or the payment of commutation fees.
25. Private Acts of 1941, Chapter 376, amended Private Acts of 1935, Chapter 439, Section 3, by adding at the end of that section a provision that all funds coming into the hands of the county highway commission shall be distributed and expended in the different districts set out in the act in an equitable manner based on the existing mileage, or the contemplated mileage in the districts.
26. Private Acts of 1947, Chapter 809, amended Private Acts of 1935, Chapter 439, Section 2, by adding the provision that in Overton County at the regular August election in 1948, the qualified voters of the county shall elect from the county at large two members of the said county commission who shall be road commissioners and hold office for 2 years from September 1, 1948. The quarterly court could fill vacancies for the unexpired term.
27. Private Acts of 1949, Chapter 219, specifically repealed Private Acts of 1947, Chapter 809, in its entirety but the repeal would not become effective until the terms of the commissioners elected pursuant thereto expire

Chapter X - Law Enforcement

Law Enforcement - Historical Notes

Jails and Prisoners

The following acts once affected jails and prisoners in Overton County, but are no longer operative. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

1. Acts of 1815, Chapter 76, was the authority for the county courts of Smith and Overton counties to lay a sufficient additional tax to raise a sum sufficient in the next two years to build a good, substantial jail and stocks at the present court house and the commissioners of the town of Monroe are to proceed forthwith to contract with someone to accomplish that objective.
2. Private Acts of 1921, Chapter 443, declared that hereafter in Overton County all the jailors who shall furnish good, wholesome, water, diet, and bedding shall be entitled to receive $1.40 per day for keeping and feeding each prisoner in his jail; further, that the jailors shall be entitled to receive for each prisoner the said $1.40 per day, and $1.00 for each turnkey, provided there are but two turnkeys for each prisoner.
3. Private Acts of 1947, Chapter 368, stated that the jailor in Overton County would receive as compensation for boarding prisoners $1.00 per prisoner per day.
4. Public Acts of 1981, Chapter 60, made it a legal necessity that the trial judge, the district attorney general, and the sheriff, or their successors in office, who had a part, or were otherwise involved, in the prosecution of a prison inmate who was not qualified for and seeking to obtain a parole, be notified of the time and place of the parole hearing so that they might attend whenever necessary or desirable.

Militia

Those acts once affecting Overton County, which related to the militia and to other law enforcement agencies other than the sheriff, are mentioned below in chronological order. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

1. Acts of 1809, First Session, Chapter 89, Section 3, organized the militia into units across the entire state. The militia of the counties of Overton, White, Warren and Franklin shall constitute the seventh brigade and the meeting to select a brigadier general for the brigade shall take place in White County.
2. Acts of 1815, Chapter 119, was a reenactment of the militia law for the state. The act contained the tables of organization for the militia which was composed of free men and indentured servants between the ages of 18 and 45. Overton County had the thirty-fifth regiment with each regiment being composed of two battalions of companies which had at least 40 privates, 2 musicians, 3 sergeants, 3 corporals, one captain, one lieutenant and one ensign.
3. Public Acts of 1819, Chapter 68, an act to revise and amend the militia laws of Tennessee. Overton County was composed of the thirty-fifth regiment and was to hold regimental muster on the third Saturday of September.
4. Public Acts of 1825, Chapter 69, reorganized the militia of the state. Overton County had the thirty-fifth regiment in the eighth brigade and their regimental muster was scheduled to occur on the third Saturday in September annually. This act was virtually a revision of the entire state military code.
5. Private Acts of 1829-30, Chapter 50, assigned the militia of Overton County as the thirtyfifth and the one hundred-fourteenth regiments. The thirty-fifth regiment shall hold a regimental muster on the third Saturday in September each year and the one hundred-fourteenth regiment shall muster on the second Saturday in September.
6. Private Acts of 1831, Chapter 32, Section 9, established a separate brigade composed of the counties of Overton, Fentress and Jackson, known as the fifteenth brigade of the Tennessee Militia. It was the duty of the major general of the second division to issue a writ of election for the purpose of electing a brigadier general for the said brigade.
7. Public Acts of 1835-36, Chapter 21, divided the militia of Tennessee into companies, battalions, regiments, brigades and divisions, and to prescribe the times and modes of electing officers. Overton County was composed of the forty-seventh and forty-eighth regiment.
8. Acts of 1837-38, Chapter 157, Section 3, set up the county drills for every militia unit in Tennessee. The act required members to report fully equipped to be trained at least three hours each day by the officers. Overton County was assigned to the eighth brigade with Fentress, White, and Jackson counties and the county muster was scheduled to take place on the Monday and Tuesday after the first Friday and Saturday in September. Regimental musters would take place in October following. The eighth brigade would meet on the first Thursday in October. Other organizational and disciplinary rules were stipulated in the act.
9. Acts of 1839-40, Chapter 56, Section 9, stated that the militia of Overton County shall compose the forty-seventh and forty-eighth regiments. Furthermore, the counties of Fentress, Overton, White and Jackson formed the tenth brigade of the State of Tennessee.

10. Public Acts of 1861, Chapter 1, was a statewide militia law which assigned Overton County as the forty-seventh and forty-eighth regiment.
11. Public Acts of 1861, Extra Session, Chapter 8, was an act passed shortly before the start of the Civil War set the muster and drill dates for the forty-eighth regiment of Overton County on Wednesday after the third Friday in September and the forty-seventh regiment would meet and drill on the next day, Thursday.

Sheriff

The following acts have no current effect but are included here for reference purposes since they once applied to the Overton County Sheriff's Office. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

1. Acts of 1809, First Session, Chapter 61, stated that it appeared to the general assembly that John B. Cross, sheriff, and collector of the state tax in Overton County, Tennessee, was charged with $13.33, the state tax on 10664 acres of land, which land did not sell for want of bidders thereon and which Cross paid out of his own funds. Cross was charged in similar fashion with $74.73 in tax money for the same reasons which amount he also paid. This act directs that $88.06 be paid to Cross as a reimbursement on taxes improperly collected from him.
2. Acts of 1813, Chapter 123, recited that William Gore, the sheriff and tax collector of Overton County neglected to report certain lands on which the taxes for 1812 were due but he has since paid the tax himself to the trustee of Overton County. This act allows Gore to report these lands and be given credit for the tax already paid, and he may personally retain the amount he had paid.
3. Private Acts of 1820, Second Session, Chapter 117, declared that after the passage of this act, the sheriffs of Overton and White counties have the authority to advertise all lands to be sold under execution in the Sparta Gazette and the ranger of these counties may also advertise the sale of strays in the same newspaper. This did not preclude either the sheriff, or ranger, from advertising in the Nashville newspapers.
4. Private Acts of 1821, Chapter 180, provided that the sheriff of Overton County and White County were required to advertise all lands to be sold under execution or for taxes in some newspaper printed in the town of Sparta. Rangers in both counties will likewise do so when they propose to sell strays.

As used in this section, "each occurrence" means each day.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the county clerk or other authorized collector of the tax from pursuing any civil remedy available to the collector by law, including issuing distress warrants and the seizure of assets, to collect any taxes due or delinquent under this act.

SECTION 8. Taxation

The following is a listing of acts pertaining to taxation in Overton County which are no longer effective. Also referenced below are acts which repeal prior law without providing new substantive provisions.

1. Private Acts of 1826, Chapter 146, recited that it had been reported to the general assembly that George Gordon conveyed 5,000 acres of land to the town of Monroe and the said land is not being claimed by adverse title and the commissioners of Monroe have commenced suit to regain the same, this act authorized the county court of Overton County to lay a tax for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the said suit and of employing counsel to pursue the same. VPublic Acts of 1870-71, Chapter 50, authorized the several counties and incorporated cities of the state to impose taxes for county and municipal purposes in the following manner, (1) that all taxable property shall be taxed according to its value on principles established for state taxation, and (2) that the credit of no county, or city, may be loaned to any person, firm, or corporation, unless a majority of the members of the quarterly court first agreed to submit the issue to a referendum vote of the people where the same must pass by a three fourth's majority. Overton County was one of the 26 counties which exempted themselves from the requirement of the three-fourths vote, for the next ten years, substituting a majority vote for it.
2. Private Acts of 1967-68, Chapter 135, established a litigation tax in Overton County at $1, as part of the costs in all civil and criminal cases in the general sessions court, criminal court, probate court, circuit court, and chancery court. The clerks of the respective courts would collect the tax and pay the same into the "Capital Improvement Fund" to be devoted to improvements for the jail, the courthouse and grounds, and to the construction of a new courthouse or to a combination of the above. Expenditures from the fund would be made by the county judge upon specific authorization by the county court. The right to issue bonds to implement and support the projects and purposes was also granted to the court. This act was not acted upon by the quarterly court and therefore never became an effective law.
