Private Acts of 1937 Chapter 264

SECTION 1. That all counties having a population of not less than 13,603 nor more than 13,625, or any subsequent Federal Census, shall provide through the Quarterly County Courts and the County Judges ample and sufficient office space in or near the Court House for all county offices coming under the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 2. That all officers coming under the provisions of this Act are hereby required to keep their offices open each and every day, with Sundays and legal holidays excepted, so that any taxpayer, citizen or interested party may have the right to inspect any records, books or papers that may be in said offices and otherwise have free access to said records.

SEC. 3. That this Act take effect from and after its passage, the public welfare requiring it.

Passed: February 19, 1937.
